User stories

As a guest,

I want to sign up a new account

so that i can make an appointment with Ruby's attendance.

Acceptance criteria

Scenario #1: Successful Sign up

    Given: Guest navigates to the Sign up page.

    When: Guest click Sign up button.

    Then: The registration page for filling in information appears.

    And: Prompt for successful registration.

Scenario #2: Make an appointment

    Given: Guest signed in to the account Successfully.

    When: Guest click make an appointment button.

    Then: Select time.

    Then: Enter time and place.

    And: "Successfully sent, waiting for Ruby's response" page will be shown.

User stories:

As a guest,

I want to cancel the appointment due to some special situation,

So that it will not waste the client's time.

Acceptance criteria

Scenario #1:Appointment Successfully and Then cancel the appointment.

    Given: Guests made an appointment before.

    When: Guests sign in and click the cancel appointment button.

    Then: Go to the record page

    Then: Click the Cancel button and enter the reason.

    And: Prompt: "cancel successfully"

Scenario #2: Click the cancel button without any appointments.

    Given: Guests did not make an appointment before.

    When: Guests sign in and click the cancel appointment button.

    Then: Search appointment records.

    And: Prompt:" you did not make any appointments"

User stories

As a client (Ruby),

I want to sign in to the website.

so that i can check the reservation request and respond to appointments.

Acceptance criteria

Scenario: Check and Respond

      Given: Client sign in with administrator privileges successfully.

      When: Client click on the message page.

      Then: Each appointment message will be displayed.

      When: Client click on one of message

      Then: The details will be shown.

      Then: Clients can select, agree or refuse(can Explain the reason).

      And: Back to the message page and respond to the guest.